

April 1, 2022

Sundance Mountain Resort Announces New Terrain and Lift for 2022-2023 Season

SUNDANCE, Utah –

Sundance announces new terrain and a fixed-grip quad lift for the 22-23 season. The new mid-mountain lift will access 4 new runs and over 15 acres of novice and intermediate terrain south of Jake's Lift. The 5-minute lift ride will increase variety for families and novice/intermediate skiers in an area never skied before. The new trails will have early season snowmaking coverage as part of Sundance's newly upgraded snowmaking system.

"It has long been a goal of the Resort to provide additional terrain on our mountain. This new area has great natural light with abundant sunshine; I am confident it will be a new favorite area for early morning runs and laps throughout the day for families." - President and General Manager, Chad Linebaugh

Sundance Mountain Resort is committed to sustainability and conservation throughout the Resort and its surrounding areas.

About Sundance Mountain Resort

Founded by Robert Redford in 1969, Sundance Mountain Resort is an all-season resort that offers multiple outdoor activities including downhill skiing, ziplining, mountain biking, hiking, horseback riding, and fly-fishing. The resort has artistic roots, authenticity, and a strong connection to nature. Sundance Mountain Resort was ranked the #2 ski resort in North America by Condé Nast in 2021 for the Reader's Choice Award.

